

Martin Luther King Middle School
April 29, 2010
Meeting Recap

A public meeting was held on April 29th at Martin Luther King Middle School to encourage the students, parents, faculty, and community members to give input and suggestions that will be implemented in the design of the new school.

Assistant Principal Vernon Claytor welcomed those in attendance. He expressed his excitement about the opportunity to influence the design of the new middle school and encouraged all in attendance to share their ideas, concerns, and suggestions.

Those in attendance were asked to share their priorities in building the new school. Most important to those in attendance was the quality of academic programs offered, with technology running a close second in the list of priorities.
